

Personification is when you give an animal or object qualities or abilities that only a human can have.

Lightning danced across the sky.

The thunder was grumbling in the distance.

The first rays of morning tiptoed through the meadow.

The wind howled in the night.

The snow swaddled the earth.

The moon played hide and seek with the clouds.

The flowers were begging for water.

The ivy wove its fingers around the fence.

The wildfire ran through the forest at an amazing speed.

The leaves waved in the wind.

Love is blind.

The city never sleeps.

The bacon was spitting in the pan.

Autumn's golden touch.

Winter's icy grip.

The trees whispered in the breeze.

The toys slept on the floor after a busy afternoon.

The waves ran across the shore.

The water beckoned invitingly to the sweaty swimmers.

The snow whispered as it fell to the ground.

The car engine coughed and sputtered into action.

The cat danced around the toy mouse.

The salty waves slapped the side of the boat.

The sky was full of dancing stars.

Trees bowed to the ground.

The kettle whistled impatiently.

The vines throttled the oak tree.